

Sunseeker Magazine – Winter Issue

Sunseeker

THIS PAGE FROM TOP: An easy voyage from Key West. In a Sunseeker yacht, the colourful homes of the Nassau coastline, Bahamas, are a sight to behold. Exuma is celebrated for its crystal-clear water, corn-fused coastlines and expansive endless ocean. In short, a Sunseeker owner's dream; at the Baha Mar Resort in the Bahamas, you'll find luxury dining, shopping, a casino and three top hotels – a Fourwood, St. Regis and Hyatt Grand invigorating sailing adventure around these sunny climes, but, for Perez, who is a self-proclaimed 'expert' on boating in the Bahamas, "I just got back yesterday," he says, excited. The ideal Sunseeker itinerary from Miami to the Bahamas takes in a plethora of different stops.

Start your foray into the Bahamas with Bimini, 51 miles from Miami, and enjoy feeding the stingrays and sharks. From Bimini, next is Chub Cay, which is another 88 miles and is "fantastic for fishing," explains Perez. No Bahamian itinerary is complete without a stop in its most famous port, Nassau, which offers resorts, restaurants and bars in abundance.

Next, it must be to Highbourne Cay, which is "the first stop to the Exumas, a small but very nice marina and a private island," explains Perez. Perez then suggests heading to Compass, which is fantastic for super yachts, and "where most people swim with sharks," before finishing the itinerary in Staniel Cay.

"It's the yachting capital of Exumas," finishes Perez. "really nice facilities with two restaurants, a marina and a full bar. It is the number one destination in Exumas. People come here to swim with the pigs and to see the 007 James Bond Thunderball cave."

From Miami to the Bahamas, this really is a part of the world that must be on your radar. Endless blue skies, hidden beaches, great nightlife and ambience; simply, a boater's paradise. 5

For Sunseeker enquiries in Florida or the Bahamas, please contact OneWater Yacht Group sales@owyg.com T +1 (804) 806 0445

BERRY & QUINTI

MONACO - INTERNATIONAL REALTY

Fabulous newly refurbished duplex penthouse leading up to a roof top with jacuzzi and boasting panoramic sea and city views. It offers a total of 360 sq m and is set in a quiet and pleasant residential area of the Principality of Monaco.

It is accessed by a private elevator and all levels enjoy landscape terraces, such as hanging gardens facing the sea.

The Residence benefits a 24/7 concierge service dedicated to your comfort and safety.

Complete file upon request.

20 avenue de la Costa - Principality of Monaco
Tel: +33 6 80 86 47 09 contact@berry-quinti.com